Fewer catch Altona train

The number of people using the Altona rail service had dropped considerably during the past twelve months, Cr. Alan Shaw told last week's meeting of Altona Council.

"It would amaze people just how much," he said, announcing figures released to him by the Victorian Railways Department.

"This bears out my contention that we are living in the dim, dark ages when men used to work a 48-hour week," he said.

"We now have an extra train to the city during the morning peak time and in the past twelve months there has been a drop in passengers at every station in Altona."

Cr. Shaw, who holds council's transport and communications portfolio, said the most significant drop had been at Mobiltown where the number of tickets sold for the year had dropped by 9000 following the closure of the Wiltona Migrant Hostel.

Council acts on flats

Altona Council is getting tougher with flat developers.

At its last meeting before Christmas, council came with a new year's resolution — there will be no more double storey flats in the municipality.

Cr. Bill Sommers, who holds council's town planning portfolio, successfully moved the revision of council's residential code for the control of multi-dwelling units.

Under the revision:

- flat developers will not be permitted to build anything higher than single storey flats;
- all units must be sited at least 20 feet from the street;
- car parking space cannot be closer to any street than the flat itself and should be sufficient for visitors as well as tenants;
- builders must place notice of intention of sites.

Speaking to his motion, Cr. Sommers said the code revision would restrict developers.

"They will only get two flats where previously they would have got four," he said.

"And it will give people who live in the flats a bigger area in which to live."

Endorsing the remarks by Cr. Sommers, Cr. Les Crofts, said all councillors had felt the need for revising the standards for multi-dwellings.

"What was good enough a few years ago is not good enough now," Cr. Crofts said.

"We're proud of the villa units we have in Altona, but we're not terribly proud of the two storey units."

"Very few flat developers live in flats. They live in five or 10 acre farmlets in the mountains, certainly not next to their flats or in them."

A windy day at Altona beach played havoc with the lovely locks of would-be hairdresser, Sharon Cassidy, 16, as she baked on the beach last week.

Sharon wasn't worried because a quick wash, rinse, shampoo and brush would soon put things right.

ANGRY SHOUTING AT WEST REGION WELFARE MEET

Cries of "fascist" were hurled at Cr. Fred Maddern during a public meeting on welfare in the western region last week.

The abuse came when he disallowed any more questions after 10.15 p.m.

It came from a young man who said he wanted the meeting to go on.

Cr. Maddern, chairing the meeting in the Footscray town hall, had reminded him that the majority of 150 people had agreed to this time.

The man then jumped to his feet and yelled "fascist". Cr. Maddern then closed the meeting.

Many spoke of the need for extended welfare services in the western region, and of the State and Australian Governments plans.

Initially the welfare programme would, over three years, receive more than $2 million from the Australian Government.

The area covered would be 10 municipalities extending from Footscray to Bacchus Marsh, and from Werribee to Bulla.

This incorporates 800 square miles and 500,000 people.

Speakers included Dr. Bruce Ford, representing the Australian Minister for Health, Mr. Douglas Everingham; Mr. A. Booth, Director General of Social Welfare representing the State Minister for Social Welfare, Mr. W. Houghton; Mr. Colin Benjamin, executive director of the Victorian Council of Social Services; Ruth Champion, Footscray representative of the Commonwealth Social Security Services.

Mr. Booth said that the money for social welfare should be distributed through the States instead of direct from the Commonwealth.

One of the audience during an hour-and-a-quarter of question time asked if the money for welfare would be under bureaucratic control.

Mrs. Champion and Mr. Benjamin replied that the money would be made available to the proposed Council of Social Development for the Western Region.

An interim council has already been formed, and the incorporation of a permanent body is well underway.

Cr. Fred Maddern said that a council could be formed within six months of incorporation.

The council would have at least 18 representatives of both State and Federal Governments, the Trades Hall Council, employers church, pensioner, and ethnic groups.

Cr. Maddern said the council wanted everyone to participate.

Christmas message from the Mayor

As the Christmas season approaches it is perhaps appropriate that we think about what Christmas really means to us.

Does it mean a time of the giving and receiving of parties where we probably indulge in food and drink? Or does it mean a rejoicing in the birthday of Christ or a time for celebration... good will towards all people... and peace to all?

We are all aware of the true meaning of Christmas. Therefore, let each and every one of us endeavor to keep this in mind during this wonderful time soon to be with us.

Let us also keep very much in mind the shocking carnage which occurs on our roads at this time of each year and show a little more tolerance towards each other. Remember this is a happy time... do not turn it into a sad one.

The Mayoress and I would like to offer our very best wishes to all the citizens of our city for a happy, holy and joyous Christmas and a prosperous New Year — Cr. Ray Richards.

Val's Column

Hello Girls,

Moon Drops Perfume Plus is here with us now.

We've read enough about this magnetic fragrance — now we know it is all true, what is said about the magnificence of the newest Revlon addition.

As well as the complete range of Moon Drops Plus arriving, we also have their well-timed special. This was first offered to the audience at the Australian Designers' Collection held at the Sydney Opera House.

A soft Cologne that is lighter (not diluted) version of the fragrance. Light enough to be worn all over, yet concentrated enough to retain its fabulously long lasting qualities.

Summer face colour. Which way are you wearing it?

Foundation colour in the usual bottle or roll on? Then look over Soft Bronze roll on by Revlon.

The new summer shades of Golden Sun and Bronze Sun by Cyclax — in the bottle (Glamotint) — or roll on, beauty tint (maybe in a tube) translucent and your powder pressed or loose.

Coty have the Sun Shimmer. Translucent — real tan colors: Bronze, Copper and Golden Tan.

Same idea again but in a stick by Mary Quant these really enhance your summer colour.

Last minute gift sets are still arriving, there is still a very large variety to browse through.

Remember, we Christmas wrap and give you a gift card.

Bye.

Lifesaving award

Altona Council is considering donating an award to Altona Life Saving Club. The award will be presented to a club member for services rendered to the community throughout the year.

Council will discuss the matter fully in committee.

Presentation

Altona Primary School's presentation night held recently, was attended by Cr. Pat Lynch. Cr. Lynch holds the council portfolio for education.

Praise for dog club

The Altona Civic Dog Obedience Club was not one of the best known clubs in the city, but it was certainly well patronised, the Mayor, Cr. Ray Richards, told a recent meeting of Altona Council.

"The council appreciates the work they are doing behind the civic offices," said Cr. Richards.

"Their uniforms and dog handling are first-class."

Extending a special welcome to club members who attended the council meeting, Cr. Richards said: "I thank you for the work you are doing in the community."

Interesting

Maps, pictures and information relating to Altona's past were featured by Altona Historical Society in the Homestead last Sunday afternoon.

OVERPASS BRIDGE OPENS

The new six-lane overpass bridge to carry Princes Highway traffic over the railway line at West Footscray was opened yesterday.

The Minister for Transport (Mr. E. R. Meagher) said that reconstruction by the CRB of the old four-lane West Footscray overpass and substantial road improvements in the vicinity were now almost complete at a total cost of $3.65 million.

Mr. Meagher commended motorists' patience during the construction of the overpass.

Conditions for both through and local traffic would now be very much better than before reconstruction started in 1971, he said.

Can you help?

Altona Rotarians are seeking support from western suburbs people in their bid to board young Aboriginal apprentices.

The appeal is part of the Altona club's plan to train Aboriginal lads.

The club has made available positions in metal fabricating, fitting and turning, and welding at local engineering plants.

But the project will fail unless it is given local support. Suitable accommodation is a necessity.

A reasonable boarding fee will be available. People interested can contact Jim Mann at work on 314 6374, or Bob Beavis on 391 3706.

Girls march well

Altona marching girls' teams showed out well in the competitions held at Mitcham on Sunday, December 9.

Details:

Midget C grade: best leader, Altona YC Ambers

2; best team, Altona YC Ambers 1.

By the way...

Late arrival

Altona's Cr. Pat Lynch was a late arrival at last week's meeting of Altona Council. He had represented council at the Altona North Primary School presentation night held at Altona North Technical School.

Wendy sang

Altona girl Wendy Piekarski, a form six student at Mt. St. Joseph's Girls' School, played the guitar and sang in "Music for the People" in the grounds of the Sacred Heart School, Newport, last Sunday afternoon.

Good timing?

Former Altona councillor, Mr. John Ginnifer, MLA, for Deer Park has left Melbourne for a study tour of Europe and the United Kingdom.

Pony club?

The formation of the Altona Pony Club was discussed at a public meeting held at the civic offices on Monday night.

The meeting was called by Altona Mayor, Cr. Ray Richards.

Won hamper

Blyth Street resident, Mrs. D. Ritchings won a Christmas hamper in the recent competition conducted for the Altona Spastic Aid Committee. The hamper was donated by Ted Hubble.

Watch found

A ladies' watch was found in Blyth Street recently. The owner can claim the watch by contacting residents at 5 Mount Street.

Praise for 'Mother Hubbard'

Altona Mayor, Cr. Ray Richards was full of praise for Altona Drama Group's recent production of Old Mother Hubbard. The production ran for three nights at the Civic Hall. Cr. Richards took his three daughters to see it.

Carols

Altona's annual carols - by-candlelight evening was held on Grant Reserve last Sunday. Music was provided by the Altona City Band and St. Paul's College chorals.

Boys' society break-up

About 30 boys and their families attended the St. Eanswythe Church of England Boys' Society, Altona, annual break-up last Wednesday.

After a tea, attended by the Rev. Robert Long, and the director of CEBS in Victoria, the Rev. Bob Duffield, the 1973 awards were presented.

The trophies were made by Mr. Albert Williams, Geelong, who is the father of one of the leaders.

AWARDS

Pages attendance, Andrew Booth; Esquire attendance, Geoff Brown; attendance, Peter Little; best CEB, Peter Pells; best sportsman, Geoff Brown; initiative award, Peter Dyer.

The A. E. Williams Trophy for the boy who goes out of his way, to help the branch, went to Peter Little.

After the presentations Mr. Bruce Rosan announced that he would not be able to continue active leadership in 1974.

He stressed to the parents that the parent support group has helped the branch succeed during the year, and hoped more parents would help during the future.

As the leadership of the branch will come on to John Williams and Peter Little he hoped everyone would give help towards keeping Altona No. 1 branch in the west.

Rev. Duffield endorsed Mr. Rosan's comments, and said he was very pleased about his help in the past.

John Williams, who is now the branch leader, thanked Mr. Rosan for all his help during the year and presented him with a gift on behalf of the branch.

Like 'old home week'

It was like "old home week" recently, when Altona mayor Cr. Ray Richards visited the City of Moorabbin as a guest of the council there.

Cr. Richards was welcomed by former Altona town clerk, Mr. Jim Waters. "You only had to look around at the blue mayoral robes, the council badges and the good streets to see that the former Altona town clerk had made his impression on that City," said Cr. Richards, "it was like being at Altona council".
